

LAST EDITION.

Familiar Characters on Our Street Corners.

A character study of some of the best known street merchants in St. Louis. Illustrated.

IN TO-MORROW'S SUNDAY P.-D.

VOL. 48, NO. 188.

SATURDAY EVENING-ST. LOUIS-FEBRUARY 13, 1897.

LAST EDITION.

Hard Trials of a Young Doctor.

Dr. Watt tells of the tough time he had in making a start in life.

IN TO-MORROW'S SUNDAY P.-D.

PRICE IN ST. LOUIS, ONE CENT.
OUTSIDE ST. LOUIS, TWO CENTS.

Read Post-Dispatch Ads Sunday for Next Week's Shopping.

GEN. JO SHELBY IS NO MORE.

THE CONFEDERATE LEADER DEAD
NEAR ADRIAN, MO.

HE WAS A GALLANT SOLDIER.

Sketch of His Military Career and Romantic Trip to Mexico at the War's Close.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 12.—Gen. Jo
O. Shelby died at his country home, eight miles from Adrian, Mo., at 4 o'clock this morning.

The end came peacefully. The patient had been unconscious since early Monday morning, and had been slowly dying since that time. At a consultation of physicians last night it was given out that death must come before morning, and the family had been constant watchers at the bedside of the dying General since that hour.

Gen. Shelby was taken seriously ill ten days ago with a severe cold and gradually grew worse. His vitality was great, however, and his friends and family had hoped that he would overcome the disease, and,
indeed, half a dozen times since then, when given up to die, the patient's remarkable recovery power asserted itself and he each time revived.

During all of last Sunday night and most of Monday the patient took continual naps, but each time he awoke he recognized those about him, but it was only for a moment, when he would again lapse into a comatose or delirious condition. He began to sink rapidly yesterday morning, and in a few moments his pulse was almost imperceptible. Until that moment Mrs. Shelby, who had been sitting at the General's bedside, believed that he would survive,
and then gave way, prostrated with grief
and physical and mental strain. Later Gen.
Shelby died, unconscious, and remained conscious till death, and practically took no medicine or nourishment.

Gen. Joseph Orville Shelby was born in Lexington, Ky., in 1831. At 19 years of age he came with his parents to Missouri.
Here he became a student, and after three years, and when his parents settled on a farm near Joplin, secured employment on a wagon train to Wyo. He ultimately became owner of the wagon train, and a plantation he had become a slave owner. When the Kansas dispute came on, Mr. Shelby naturally sympathized with the pro-slavery element, and in the "border troubles" which followed, he was leader in one of the raids into Kansas.

When actual hostilities began, he was known among his neighbors as Capt. Shelby.
He joined the Confederate Army, and entered the field, starting South to join Gen. Price. A few weeks later Capt.
Shelby was commanding Col. Collier's regiment and ordered back to Missouri to recruit a regiment. Returning with his band of 100 men, who had numerous skirmishes with Federal forces, he joined Collier's regiment
a regiment to which were joined the three Missouri regiments in a cavalry organization known as the "Iron Brigade." This brigade under Gen. Shelby, saw much hard service in Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas.

Shelby is identified with the entire history of the war west of the Mississippi River.
He actively participated in every hard-fought battle, and was conspicuous as a daring rider, and in the raids of Price's army being under his command.

In 1863, Gen. Shelby was made Colonel of cavalry. In January, 1863, he was in command of a brigade, and in May, 1864, he became Brigadier-General.

At the battle of Pea Ridge, Mo., March

4, 1864, Gen. Shelby particularly distinguished himself as he did also at Cane Hill, Wauconda, and Newtonia, Ark., where the last battle of the war west of the Mississippi was fought.

When the news of Lee's surrender came to the Confederates here, the West, Gen.

Shelby found himself at the head of a well equipped and thoroughly disciplined body of a great many of whom would not admit that they had been beaten; when, as an alternative, he proposed a march to Mexico, there to espouse the cause of Maximilian, the man of his following readily joined him. A column was formed and held and Shelby was elected commander, receiving every vote. The column then marched across the mountains to Austin,
the capital of Texas, where the Confederate Government had a sub-treasury in which was stored $300,000 in gold and silver. Gen.

Shelby's regiment arrived too late to get in time to save this treasure from a marauding band of guerrillas under Capt.
Walling, who captured the treasury building
and started in to loot it.

Shelby's men surrounded the place, and after a short struggle the number of the raiders drove them off. Gen. Shelby's men guarded the treasure until the following day. On the morning following the battle of Austin, prepared to march to Mexico, he was told that inasmuch as he was the last organized body of the Confederacy in Texas, they should join this Confederacy. Gen.

Shelby positively refused, saying, "I went into the war with clean hands, and by God's blessing, I will go out of the war with clean hands."

From Austin, Shelby's band marched to San Antonio, and the Eagle Pass, where they crossed into Mexico and resumed their march northward, reaching the City of Mexico. Maximilian had been reigning for a year. Shelby offered to take immediate service in his band, and to recruit an army of 40,000 Americans to subdue the native troops, but Maximilian was suspicious, and Shelby's company was forced to disband. Many of them remained in Mexico, others went on the Pacific Coast, and others to California, while some returned to their former homes.

Gen. Shelby became a freight contractor in Mexico, but in 1867 he returned to his farm at home, where he lived a retired life until 1884, when Fredrick L. Deveaux appointed him United States Marshal for the Western District of Missouri. During the great railroad strike of 1884, when Marshal Shelby was active in the strike, he became involved in a controversy with Gov. Stone, who contended that United States officers had been used in violation of the doctrine of State rights, the very doctrine which Shelby had fought so bitterly for during the Civil War, but to Gov. Stone, Gen. Shelby was decidedly a traitor, and he settled for all time when Lee surrendered at Appomattox. In the recent campaign Gen. Shelby was an active supporter of the policy of President Lleveland.

MADE HIMSELF POOR.

Consul Went Broke, Writing That There's Nothing in Banana Raising.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 12.—Banana growing in Honduras is not a bonanza says
United States Consul Jarman at Utting, 41

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

SATURDAY EVENING-ST. LOUIS-FEBRUARY 13, 1897.

PRICE IN ST. LOUIS, ONE CENT.
OUTSIDE ST. LOUIS, TWO CENTS.

port of the Bay Islands. The officer has been overwhelmed by letters from people in the United States who, under the impression that "the royal road to fortune is through a banana plantation," want to know all about banana culture. The Commissioner of these letters until he exhausted his resources, no postage stamps being allowed by the State Department for this service.
Then the postmaster official turned to the Department, describing all of the conditions of banana culture in Honduras. His conclusion is that the "royal road" to fortune is a myth equalled only by the fabulous tales of mineral wealth that lies hidden everywhere among the crags and cliffs of the Honduran coast.

DUESTROW'S FATE.

Gov. Stephens' Decision Regarding a Respite May Be Held Over Till Monday.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 13.—Gov.
Stephens has not yet given his decision in answer to the application for a thirty days' respite for Duestrow. It is not likely that the action of the Governor will be made public before Monday.

Circuit Attorney Eggers of St. Louis is here to-day, and the Supreme Court mandate was sent to Union.

Ex-Gov. Johnson and Charles Noland of the Duestrow counsel are here awaiting the Governor's decision. It is generally believed that the respite will be granted, although the Governor's delay is creating some doubt as to what the result will be.

ROSES FOR DUESTROW.

Box Filled With Wilted Flowers Comes
by Express.

Jalle Wagner received a pasteboard box
by express from Syracuse, N. Y., to-day.
It was filled with roses, so wilted and faded
as to suggest that they had been taken from a month's-old grave. Inside was a card, addressed to Dr. Arthur Duestrow and the words, "Lord Christ is Merciful." The Jaller thought the roses might contain poison, with which the condemned wife and child mur-derer could end his life if Gov. Stephens refused to stay the execution, so he threw the box and its contents into the prison furnace.

SKINFLENT MORTON.

The Cabinet Apostle of Economy Prints
at Public Expense a Picture of His Home.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—It is rare that a picture of any kind appears in the Congressional Record. However, near the back of the Record for Friday appears a half-page picture of Secretary Morton's home in Nebraska, called "Arbor Lodge."

It was reproduced by Senator Vest, who made a speech concerning the expenditure of public money for the printing of a picture of a cabinet officer's house.

ROBBERY OF GERMANTOWN.

Germantown Is Fairly Sieged by a
Band Numbering Two Hundred.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CARLYLE, Ill., Feb. 13.—A resident of Germantown, twelve miles southwest of this city, brings word here that about 200
gypsies are encamped on the picnic grounds,
one-half mile east of town, and are terrorizing
the inhabitants. They are in such large numbers that the inhabitants fear they will destroy their property if they do not accede to their demands. They go to the farmhouses and demand bread, oats and provisions, and compel the farmers to contribute.
The people of Germantown are in a serious position, and have appealed to the police for help.

TERRORIZED BY GYPSIES.

Germantown Is Fairly Sieged by a
Band Numbering Two Hundred.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NO CAUSE TO KILL HIMSELF.

His Wife Found Him in Bed Too Late
for the Doctor to Save Him.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 13.—Charles Leslie,
a grocer at Twenty-first and Wash streets,
died Saturday morning of morphine. He had been drinking with friends Friday night,
and did not return to his home until 3 o'clock Saturday morning. He entered a room in which he had slept, and without awakening his wife, who occupied
the next room with an 8-year-old daughter.
Early Saturday morning he was discovered dead, and his wife, Mrs. Leslie, was alarmed by her husband's heavy breathing.

At the same time the boy awoke and called his mother. Mrs. Leslie hurried to the room and found her husband dead.
She was unsuccessful and summoned some of the neighbors. They could not wake the man, and at 10 o'clock Dr.
W. J. Sutter, of the City Hospital, was sent
for. The physician saw that he had an acute case of morphine poisoning to contend
with, and after injecting a stimulant, he was assisted and forced an entrance to summon an ambulance.

It was 10 o'clock before the ambulance arrived, and the doctor learned that a telephone connection with the City Dispensary could not
be obtained soon.

Leslie was found dead by the time he reached the hospital. There were no signs
of life, but Dr. Sutter and his assistants
made a vigorous effort to revive him using
artificial respiration and electric batteries
until it was seen that there was absolutely no hope. Five minutes after Leslie was brought into the hospital he was dead.

Early Saturday morning he was buried in the cemetery, and his father, Fred Rachel,
was at the hospital at the time. Neither of them could give any explanation of the tragedy, and were unable to say why he had committed suicide.

Mrs. Leslie was prostrated with grief and could not talk coherently. She described her husband's heavy breathing and the crying of the child. She supposed that her husband had taken a large dose of morphine and did not think of poison until after she had spent several minutes attempting to awake
him.

She could think of no reason why her hus-

IS IN LOVE WITH
REV. CARL PLEGER.

CLARA FREDERICK PESTERED A MODEST PREACHER.

HE APPEALED TO THE POLICE.

Young Woman With a Shattered Intellect Arrested on Complaint of a Lutheran Minister.

Rev. Carl Pledger, pastor of the German Evangelical Lutheran Church, at Euclid and Maple avenues, who boards at 4013 Fountain avenue, has had Clara Frederick of 913 Monroe street put under the care of Dr. Sutter, at the City Hospital, that her mental condition may be determined.

Mr. Pledger says Clara has for two months been endeavoring to lavish her affections on him; to his great annoyance and the peril of his reputation.

Mr. Pledger is a handsome, fair-haired man, about 30 years old. He is a bachelor, of manifest Teutonic extraction, and speaks English with a distinct German accent.

"I have known this woman only since last Christmas," said Mr. Pledger to a reporter.
"First I saw her then at my church, and since then she has continually pestered me with her attentions. She has waylaid me on the streets, and when I would not stop to talk with her, she would follow me, and I would tell the people all about me. She has tried a number of times, to see me here at my home, wanting to come up to my room.

"She has never told me what she wants me to do, but she would say bad things to me. Once she came to my church to inspect our confirmation class, and she asked for confirmation and was given some. She was asking for good love letters, but she refused to say what she wrote.

The boy declared her love for Mr.
Pledger and her belief that he reciprocated
and begged the reporter to send him down
to see her.

On the way to the station, I have heard that she once had some relations with a student, and he left her, and I may be thin he had made some trouble for me.

Mr. Pledger declined to divulge the contents of the letters written to him by Miss Frederick, who was born in Germany and now lives in St. Louis.

Dr. Sutter thinks Clara is insane.

To a reporter she said she had written the letters to Mr. Pledger because she wanted to get him to marry her. She said she was writing good love letters, but he refused to say
what she wrote.

The boy declared her love for Mr.
Pledger and her belief that he reciprocated
and begged the reporter to send him down
to see her.

WHAT CAN HE DO WITH HIM?

—From the New York Evening Telegram.

DEATH WOUND UP LESLIE'S SPREE.

WASH STREET GROCER TOOK MORPHINE AND DIED.

NO CAUSE TO KILL HIMSELF.

His Wife Found Him in Bed Too Late
for the Doctor to Save Him.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 13.—Charles Leslie,
a grocer at Twenty-first and Wash streets,
died Saturday morning of morphine. He
had been drinking with friends Friday night,
and did not return to his home until 3 o'clock Saturday morning. He entered a room in which he
had slept, and without awakening his wife, who occupied
the next room with an 8-year-old daughter.
Early Saturday morning he was discovered
dead, and his wife, Mrs. Leslie, was
alarmed by her husband's heavy breathing.

At the same time the boy awoke and
called his mother. Mrs. Leslie hurried to
the room and found her husband dead.
She was unsuccessful and summoned some of the neighbors. They could not wake the man, and at 10 o'clock Dr.
W. J. Sutter, of the City Hospital, was sent
for. The physician saw that he had an
acute case of morphine poisoning to contend
with, and after injecting a stimulant, he was assisted and forced an entrance to sum-
mon an ambulance.

It was 10 o'clock before the ambulance arrived, and the doctor learned that a telephone connection
with the City Dispensary could not
be obtained soon.

Leslie was found dead by the time he reached the hospital. There were no signs
of life, but Dr. Sutter and his assistants
made a vigorous effort to revive him using
artificial respiration and electric batteries
until it was seen that there was absolutely
no hope. Five minutes after Leslie was brought into the hospital he was dead.

Early Saturday morning he was buried
in the cemetery, and his father, Fred Rachel,

STORM WAITING FOR M'KINLEY.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS DISGUSTED WITH HIS COURSE.

"THE HARBINGER OF DEFEAT."

Thus Described by a Senator and a General Outcry Raised About Hanna's Prominence.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK. Feb. 13.—Advices from Washington are that McKinley has aroused the fears and resentment of Republican leaders by selections for his cabinet, as well as by his desperate effort to reward Mark Hanna.

A Republican Senator is quoted as saying:

"Major McKinley was to be the advance agent of prosperity, we hoped; as appearances are now, we fear he may be the harbinger of defeat."

This seems to be the view of many Senators and Representatives who look with fear to the future.

Mr. McKinley's cabinet selections are handled without gloves, and his policy is mercilessly arraigned by the big leaders who fear for the future of their party. It is alleged that there is not a Republican Senator who does not deprecate the selection of Mr. Sherman for Secretary of State.

A Senator from New England declared: "I respect and admire Sherman, but when he takes the floor his jillicious friends tremble over what he is liable to utter. Ten years ago he was another man."

Another Senator in discussing the Ohio situation said that McKinley's desire to repay Hanna with a cabinet position would have been successful had he been judiciously placed, but Hanna's conduct in the U. S. Senate has led to a colossal blunder—as had a piece of politics as could well have been accomplished.

The "Times" of New York quotes a statement of the Garrison in New York and Senator Allison has said openly that a bill introduced by Mr. Gage regarding silver and the greenbacks could not pass the Senate or the House.

Another Senator said that his ideas would make him a Republican if he could get into law.

Senator Quay's attitude towards the new administration resembles that of the army of invasion, and it is claimed that Mr. Platt went to Florida in an angry frame of mind towards Mr. McKinley.

"The Spanish blockade is not made one of the Cabinet," he is quoted as having said. "I wish in other New Yorker to be chosen."

As Mr. Woodford seems to be out of the race, it may be inferred that Mr. Platt's indignation has not cooled.

The P. T. A. is to propose to do all in their power to prevent Mr. McKenna's confirmation on the ground that he was selected as the personal choice of Archibald Irene.

It is also claimed that the reason for championing Judge McKenna was that he wished to insure the continuance of the school system among the Indians whereas the church secures a number of teachers of its own faith.

Senator Foraker is quoted as expressing great personal friendshipt for McKinley, but as utterly disgusted with his part in attempting to force Hanna on the State. First advantage of the opportunity to show what he has done for McKinley as preparatory to washing his hands of all responsibility for the fight that is to be made upon Hanna tries to capture the next legislature.

MRS. M'KINLEY'S WARDROBE.

Elegant Dresses for the First Lady of the Land.

CHICAGO. Feb. 13.—The inaugural wardrobe of Mrs. Wm. McKinley, preparations for which have been the object of two visits to this city, is completed. It consists of ten rich costumes of satin, velvet and silver cloth and will be shipped from this city to the Metropole Hotel. Some Louisiana dresses are to be worn on inaugural and State occasions will be among the most magnificent ever displayed in Washington society.

The cost of the wardrobe will be between $3,000 and $3,000. They are pronounced by those who viewed them to be among the best creations of the art of dressmaking which have yet been attained in the country.

The wardrobe is to be used for the inauguration and it is claimed that Mr. McKinley will be seen under a microscope. Foraker men say that there will not be enough room for Hanna.

The Senator has said that he has never seen such a fine collection of dresses.

Foraker places himself in the position of not wanting to make trouble for the administration. But if the administration makes him trouble and crosses his path the Foraker men say that there will not be enough room for Hanna.

The Senator has said that he has never seen such a fine collection of dresses.

He Favors It If It Does Not Involve National Disgrace.

MINNEAPOLIS. Minn., Feb. 13.—At a banquet given last night by Minnesota Commandery, Order of the Loyal Legion, Archibald Ireland discussed the Arbitration treaty. In impassioned tones, he said that while he favored peace and arbitration there was something still more important, that they should be aware of the fact that war, if it came, would be conducted in a manner different from others.

The Minister of War, Gen. Wm. Gage, responded to the view that the army promoted the peaceful development of the country. He added that the Social Democratic propaganda in the army would be punished and suppressed with the utmost vigor.

The lining of this beautiful gown is of white satin, heavy and rich. Around the skirt are wide half a dozen ruffles to give the lace which is used made especially for the establishment where the gown was designed. It is almost priceless in value, the whole pattern being purchased by Mrs. McKinley.

We know that Cod-liver Oil is a fat-forming food because takers of it gain rapidly in weight under its use and the whole body receives vital force. When prepared as in Scott's Emulsion, it is quickly and easily changed into the tissues of the body. As your doctor would say, "it is easily assimilated." Perhaps you are suffering from fat starvation. You take fat enough with your food, but it either isn't the right kind, or it isn't digested. You need fat prepared for you, as in Scott's Emulsion.

THE ZANESVILLE BLOW-OUT.

Hanna Would Have Been Downed, but Dodged the Issue.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ZANESVILLE, O. Feb. 13.—Hanna weakened last night, failed to try conclusion with his opposition. He was not here, having been detained by illness. There was considerable noise made when Hanna and Bushnell entered the hall where the Ohio delegation were gathered. There were Hanna's crowd from Cleveland, who came on 50-cent tickets, were demonstrative but the evening passed without a showing of force.

The much-talked-of resolutions indorsing Hanna for senator did not follow. All some of them wanted to force through a warm resolution demanding of Bushnell that he should be compelled to make such resolutions ready. They wanted to get credit for their devotion to Hanna by some such deed, but he frowned. Hanna's supporters advised every Hanna supporter to head off the resolution idea.

Roosevelt a Candidate.

NEW YORK. Feb. 13.—Theodore Roosevelt, President of the Police Board, has applied to Mr. McKinley for the post of First Assistant to the Secretary of Defense. Roosevelt is a native of Newcastle, Ind., is the only other known applicant. Advices from Canton are not encouraging for Roosevelt. He declines to discuss the matter.

Minister to Denmark.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Feb. 13.—Information is received from Boston that the Rev. Dr. Holmes of the Baptist Church of this city has accepted the interim pastorate of First Congregational Church of Indianapolis. Dr. Holmes has seen Mr. McKinley and is said to have been assured of the appointment. He is a native of Denmark.

Place for a Preacher.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 13.—The Rev. I. S. Hopkins, pastor of the First Methodist Church, has just returned from a long trip to Europe. He has decided to remain in the service of the church to the exclusion of politics. He has no desire to run for office.

Another Senator said that his ideas would make him a Republican if he could get into law.

POST-OFFICE ABOLISHED.

Peculiar Predicament in Which the Town of Marquand Finds Itself.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—An order has been issued to discontinue, Feb. 19, the post-office at Marquand, Madison Co., Mo., although the business done yields the postmaster there $30 a day. The letter was written to the postmaster upon the recommendation of a post-office inspector who visited Marquand, it was decided to remove the postmaster and replace him with a mail carrier. The postmaster had no money, inquiry was made to the post office, and he was told that he had to bid in the girl for Col. Estrich, who had taken a fancy to her.

When the girl appeared in La Lucha it was discovered that she was a member of the Catholic clergy of Havana, and the Bishop had written to the postmaster to advise him to retain a postmaster who had been retained at the appointment of Ansel M. DeVinney, but he failed to file an acceptable official report.

DeVinney was well recommended for the office and the Bishop had written to the postmaster to advise him to retain a postmaster who had been retained at the appointment of Ansel M. DeVinney, but he failed to file an acceptable official report.

From the voluminous protests made by the residents of the town and from some other circumstances the department became convinced that a combination had been formed by the editor of Marquand to coerce the postmaster officials and to entice retaining a postmaster who had been retained at the appointment of DeVinney.

After the appointment of Ansel M. DeVinney, he was to be used for the appointment of a postmaster who had been retained at the appointment of DeVinney. In this he succeeded.

Maxwell decided that under no circumstances would he keep the present incumbent in office, and, moreover, the protestant inhabitants of the town, to whom the objection to DeVinney, Gen. Maxwell determined to have the appointment of the mail continued, and if this was resisted to abolish the Marquand office.

Office of the Collector of the Revenue of the City of St. Louis, St. Louis, Feb. 10, to the Merchants and Manufacturers, Attention: Merchants' and Manufacturers' League are due since July 1, 1896. All demands are urgently requested to call at this office at once, to avoid costs and inconvenience.

MRS. M'KINLEY'S WARDROBE.

Elegant Dresses for the First Lady of the Land.

DISTRESS GREAT AND MUCH MORE AID IS NEEDED AT ONCE.

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 13.—Thirty thousand people are known to be suffering from the effects of the drought, the butter, eggs and milk supplies are cut off in Grant, Catahoula, Winn and Caldwell parishes.

New Orleans and some parishes are dry now what has been done for Hanna as preparation to washing his hands of all responsibility to be made upon Hanna tries to capture the next legislature.

COLOMBIA'S NAVY.

HER ONE WARSHIP A FAILURE AND SHE WANTS MORE.

PANAMA, Feb. 13.—The Government of Colombia has voted 6,000,000 francs for the purchase of more warships. The navy now consists of only one cruiser, the Cordoba, and a small boat and a steam launch, which turned out to be a failure, the gunboats Iapapa and Bayaca and Hercules.

INSURGENTS WIN.

Fight in Which 100 Spaniards Were Left Dead on the Field.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HAVANA, Feb. 13.—In a battle late Thursday at Diego Franco, Province of Havanna, the Spanish commander, Maj. Francisco Guillen, was wounded and his column was saved only by the efforts of reinforcements from the garrison of Cartagena. The official report says that 100 Spaniards were killed.

Spanish authorities say that only eight Spaniards were killed.

COLONIA'S NAVY.

HER ONE WARSHIP A FAILURE AND SHE WANTS MORE.

PANAMA, Feb. 13.—The Government of Colombia has voted 6,000,000 francs for the purchase of more warships. The navy now consists of only one cruiser, the Cordoba, and a small boat and a steam launch, which turned out to be a failure, the gunboats Iapapa and Bayaca and Hercules.

THE RED CROSS IN CUBA.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—Clara Barton, with her corps of trained nurses and physicians of the Red Cross, is ready to go to Cuba as soon as the American people permit. She has been asked to go to the aid of the Spaniards.

"I cannot go to Cuba empty-handed," she said. "The Red Cross has no fund of its own to meet the expenses of the trip." The Red Cross has received letters that tell of families who have not had a piece of meat in their home for weeks, and she said that for two or more days, in some places, in Cuba, women were hungry and barefooted, while young children, with pinched faces, clung about the bottom of a steamer.

Some distressing scenes have been reported, and in some instances have been exaggerated, but without doubt the people must be fed.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—The Red Cross has been asked to go to the aid of the Spaniards.

SPANISH BUTCHER HACKED TO PIECES.

KEY WEST, Fla., Feb. 13.—Maj. Luis Lora captured a Spanish convoy train near Artemisa, Province of Pinar del Rio, Monday, and fifty prisoners.

The train, which was carrying 100 rebels, was hacked to pieces by a company of soldiers.

Another Spanish captain, Mazzeiro, who is accused of murdering more than 100 pacificos in that province, soon after Lora's men saw him turn and flee, and, despite orders of his commands, literally hacked him to pieces.

IRELAND ON ARBITRATION.

He Favors It If It Does Not Involve National Disgrace.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 13.—At a banquet given last night by Minnesota Commandery, Order of the Loyal Legion, Archibald Ireland discussed the Arbitration treaty. In impassioned tones, he said that while he favored peace and arbitration there was something still more important, that they should be aware of the fact that war, if it came, would be conducted in a manner different from others.

The Minister of War, Gen. Wm. Gage, responded to the view that the army promoted the peaceful development of the country. He added that the Social Democratic propaganda in the army would be punished and suppressed with the utmost vigor.

The lining of this beautiful gown is of white satin, heavy and rich. Around the skirt are wide half a dozen ruffles to give the lace which is used made es-

We know that Cod-liver Oil is a fat-forming food because takers of it gain rapidly in weight under its use and the whole body receives vital force. When prepared as in Scott's Emulsion, it is quickly and easily changed into the tissues of the body. As your doctor would say, "it is easily assimilated." Perhaps you are suffering from fat starvation. You take fat enough with your food, but it either isn't the right kind, or it isn't digested. You need fat prepared for you, as in Scott's Emulsion.

PULLMAN'S SON.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—George M. Pullman, sleeping car magnate, learned yesterday that his son Sanger had started out as a chemist and engineer in New York, and immediately took a train to Boston. After a month ago Pullman disbursed Sanger, and turned him out to shift for himself. The boy, however, brought with him his numerous escapades, the last being at the introduction at the Auditorium of a woman of doubtful character as his wife. Pullman is said to be greatly annoyed by his son's conduct, and is determined to bring his son home and kill one of Phil Armour's big fat calves.

COMIC OPERA STARS.

Lillian Russell, Della Fox and Angelis Will Join Forces.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 13.—A scheme to effect a joint tour of opera companies.

Madame Lilli Russell, Della Fox and Jefferson Davis, Angels, has been consummated. It is the intention of the new combination to produce a new comic opera, "The Nuptial Day," in Casino, New York, about April 1. The book of the opera is by S. Isaac Stange and the music by Julian Edgington, who are the authors of the opera "Brian Bard."

We know that Cod-liver Oil is a fat-forming food because takers of it gain rapidly in weight under its use and the whole body receives vital force. When prepared as in Scott's Emulsion, it is quickly and easily changed into the tissues of the body. As your doctor would say, "it is easily assimilated." Perhaps you are suffering from fat starvation. You take fat enough with your food, but it either isn't the right kind, or it isn't digested. You need fat prepared for you, as in Scott's Emulsion.

FLANK movement.

Rumors That Gomez Has Outwitted Weyler and Is Camped Near Colon.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—A dispatch to the Herald from Havana says: "Rumors continue to spread abroad that Gomez has extorted himself from Gen. Weyler's colonists, and is on the march toward the port of Colon. It is even said that he has reached Colon."

Four thousand troops left Havana on Tuesday morning for Colon, and parties of Castilla and Aranguren are at Matanzas, marching east. Gen. Weyler has left Santa Clara, and is now at Placetas.

There was a skirmish in the next few days awaiting here with intense excitement.

Foray of Gomez ready to attack.

TAKES RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE PERRINE DEAL.

A VERY LAME STATEMENT.

Being Jumped On by Tillman, He Tried to Wiggle Out of an Awkward Place.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—Assistant Attorney General Lionberger has come to the front as a scapegoat for Secretary Francis. He assumes the responsibility for granting the Perrine claim for 23,000 acres of land in Florida. Before Tillman was appointed to the department to inquire about the matter, Senator Tillman was called upon to represent the grant of land to Perrine.

How did Tillman get into this difficulty?

He was called upon to represent the grant of land to Perrine.

MR. LIONBERGER A SCAPEGOAT.

A STEEL CLUB.

The Illinois Steel Company to Be Used to Break Carnegie's Big Combine.

N.Y. TRAVELER'S GUIDE.</b

CITY NEWS.

Bayle's Deviled Cheese!
A DELICIOUS TID-BIT! Packed in one-pound Flemish jars. For sale by leading grocers and caterers.

Dr. E. C. Chase,
Sixth and Locust. Set of teeth. $2.

Good Blood—New Life.
Impoverished blood is at the bottom of all ailments. You can get fresh, invigorating blood by taking "SILSBEE'S PEPTONIZED IRON AND MANGAN."

MISS FAY'S TIP.

Went Through and the Pool-Rooms Were Hard Hit.

In the sporting notes of Friday's Post-Dispatch there was a reference made to the tip on Charm to win the first race at New Orleans, given out by Miss Fay at the Fourteenth Street Tribune the night before. Mrs. Marcus said the "tip" was given out a few minutes before the race was off, and there was a rush to get on at oddds. Miss Fay's name has more now than ever. She was hard hit.

The racing notes of Friday's Post-Dispatch, the 6 o'clock edition of the Post-Dispatch, there was general rejoicing.

SHE DROPS OUT OF SIGHT AGAIN.

THIS TIME THE FRIENDS OF MRS. MARCUS ARE WORRIED.

QUEER ACTS OF AN OLD WOMAN.

Although She Has Money, She Always Lived Like a Pauper and Never Paid Rent.

Mrs. Louisa Marcus of 1705 South street, has disappeared. Nothing has been seen of her for three weeks and it is feared she has come to some harm.

It is nothing new for Mrs. Marcus to drop suddenly out of sight, but heretofore she has usually reappeared within a reasonable time. This is the first time her whereabouts have remained undiscovered for so long, and those interested feel great uneasiness.

In many respects Mrs. Marcus is one of the most interesting characters in South St. Louis, if not in the city. Those who know her say she is eccentric. Less charitably disposed persons call her crazy.

Whether the latter allegation be true or not, she has exhibited remarkable shrewdness in her business dealings, and, with thrift, has succeeded in laying by quite a snug sum.

When her father died, six years ago, he left her something over $500 in cash. Six hundred dollars of this she loaned to the Rev. St. Paul's Friedens-Kirche, at Thirteenth street and Allen avenue, at 4 per cent interest.

At that time her husband, George Marcus, was living. The residue of the legacy is unaccounted for, and is supposed to be held by his son, who is still a minor. It was noted for quiet behavior, but was apparently earnest in matters pertaining to the church. The great secret of Mrs. Marcus' wealth and fitness. Cleanliness of person or clothing seemed to be entirely unknown. About a year ago Marcus was killed in a railroad accident, and his wife, with whom she had become more erratic in her conduct, until finally she was considered demented.

She did well of the simplest and easiest manner, and always gave half money for anything else the greatest part of her wages went to the hoarder sum. Two years ago she sent her children to the Methodist Evangelical Orphans' Home. It is alleged that at that time the bodies of the young ones had been unwashed so long they were actually rotten with vermin. The children are now in that institution.

Last April Mrs. Marcus rented a room at 1705 South Grand, and paid her rent in advance. Her general rule and paid two months rent. She frequently boasted of her $800 in the church, and it is alleged significantly that was but a dime compared with the amount she had after May she refused to pay rent, and defied the landlady, Mrs. Longnecker, to put her out.

Three weeks ago she disappeared, leaving her effects locked up in the house. Her return was entirely awaited, but Mrs. Longnecker died of old age. Mrs. Marcus summoned a constable and had the furniture put in the street. She visited Pastor Legion of St. Paul Church, asking some assistance from the poor. When he informed her nothing could be done in that line, without the sanction of Mrs. Marcus.

Other persons, however, in the community, women are clamoring for the money, and have made frequent trips to the pastor's house. It is within the last week that the story of the girl's disappearance came to light, when it was regarded as the fancy of a mind diseased. This has brought those Mrs. Marcus owes to the very doors of the church in the hope their claims may be adjudicated.

Mrs. Marcus now refuses to have anything to do with the pastor or the money. For two years she has neglected to collect the semi-annual interest. She seems to think the pastor is all that binds her to the church, and she wishes to use the tie, although she will attend no services.

The church officers have interested them selves in the case, and make an effort to find her. In the meantime a friend will take charge of the furniture.

DANGEROUS SURGERY.

Death Follows the Surgeon's Knife—Not the Surgeon's Fault, of Course. He Can't Help It—You Can.

Pyramid Pile Cure Cures Piles Quickly, Painlessly, Without Danger.

People go along for years suffering with piles. They try this and that and the other thing; from carrying a buckeye to getting treatment from a physician. They obtain temporary relief, maybe, but they are never quite cured. A little strain in lifting, excessive fatigue, a little constipation, little diarrhoea and the piles come back.

They don't seem to amount to much, but they banish sleep and appetite. No position is comfortable. There is intense local pain and that dreadful feeling of weight in the perineum.

Maybe in the early stages some of the many salves on sale will afford temporary relief. If the case is of long standing there is only one speedy and sure remedy. It is Pyramid Pile Cure. Even in light cases it is the safest thing to use. Other applications may cure and may not. Pyramid Cure is always certain, always reliable, always brings comfort at once. Its prompt use saves months of severe suffering. In extreme cases it will save surgical operations and their attendant dangers and discomforts. It is better than a life. Will cure easier, quicker, and safer. Thousands have used it. Thousands have been cured by it. The cost is trifling compared with what it does. The price is 60 cents. Most anybody would gladly pay ten dollars to be rid of piles.

Druggists sell Pyramid Pile Cure. If you want it he will get it for you from the Pyramid Drugg Co. of Albion, Mich. (sole manufacturer).

DAN DOUGHERTY IN NEW ORLEANS.

THE YOUNG ST. LOUIS CYCLIST WILL RACE THERE.

FIGHT FOR RESERVE CLAUSE.

Tom Brown's Machine May Be Adopted
—General News of the Sporting World.

The first cycle race meet of the year will take place in New Orleans at an early date.

In the amateur class St. Louis will have an able representative in Dan Dougherty, the youngster who rides in the colors of the Zander Institute. On Saturday he will leave St. Louis for the Southern city tomorrow, and will train there several weeks before going on the track. He is probably the best young rider in the country.

Dougherty is only 14 years old, by hard and conscientious training the youngster managed to get into shape shortly before the close of the '96 racing season.

The cracks in the city finished behind him in more than one race, and at Dallas, Tex., he won out in the several days in succession.

He has spent the winter training faithfully at the "Zander Institute," and cycle race with the League of Independent Cyclists, racers and a large crowd of enthusiastic devotees of the sport in attendance.

All the young women contestants have rounded into form, and are making a good showing for the girls in winter service which is on exhibition in the hall.

Although a small margin separates the three leaders the result is still in doubt and a minute change in the race would alter the positions. Miss La Tour, "Toddy" Shaw and Miss Nelle Hutton are fighting hard for the lead.

The intermission from 8:30 to 9 o'clock is filled in with some noteworthy speed race or a novelty exhibition.

The races will terminate at midnight.

The score of the races is as follows:

	No. Miles	Covered during evening
Mollie La Tour	129	15
Jerry Cronin	108	2
H. Wippern	101	3
R. W. Nicomach	98	39
Edua La Tour	110	13
Lulu Wood	100	10
L. J. W.	100	22
	14	1

AL SMITH DENIES.

Forfeit Money for the Fight Has Not Been Touched.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—According to Al Smith, stakeholder of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight, not a cent of the money up on the big fight has been touched.

"I still have the money in my possession," said Smith, "and what is more, I have no right whatever to allow anyone to take this money out of my hands. All of

NOT PLEASED AT THE VERDICT.

POLICE INSIST OLD MAN STEWART KILLED HIMSELF.

EVIDENCE WORKS BOTH WAYS.

They Claim the Coroner's Verdict Was Rendered Solely to Help the Health Department.

The verdict of the Coroner's jury on the death of William H. Stewart stamps the case as one of wilful murder, and throws the responsibility of discovering the murderer upon the police authorities. Capt. Joyce of the Fourth District, in whose bailiwick the murder was committed, was not at all pleased with the verdict, as he had satisfied himself that the old man was murdered.

Capt. Harrigan immediately began learning the results of the inquest, instructed Capt. Joyce to resume his investigations into the matter and try to discover the murderer. In view of the exhaustive researches made by Capt. Joyce and his officers before the inquest, it is scarcely probable that any new light will be shed upon the mystery.

The police have been unable to find any record of the death of Stewart in the police annals as one of the many unexplained deaths upon which the department had been called to act within the past year.

The police say that the verdict of the Coroner's jury, ascribing the death of Stewart to injurious influences upon persons with felonious intent, instead of to morphine poison taken with suicidal intent, was due to a desire of Coroner Wait to shield the police from the responsibility of the embarrassing position in which they would otherwise be placed by the actions of some of the Dispensary employees.

The police say that the verdict of the Coroner's inquest Friday was of such a nature as would bear out the verdict of suicide as reading that the man was dead.

The watchfulness of Dr. Jordan, chief of the Dispensary staff, prevented this damning admission from becoming a portion of the official record of this mysterious case. While Dr. Meyer J. Lippe was the physician attending Coroner Wait Friday, Dr. Jordan was an interested listener. Dr. Lippe is the physician who attended Stewart on the night he was brought to the Dispensary. Coroner Wait asked this question:

"Doctor, could the ribs of the deceased have been broken?" Dr. Lippe replied that the ribs had been fractured by the application of his chest and diaphragm by the Dispensary attendants in their efforts to induce artificial respiration?

Dr. Lippe considered the question very carefully, and then replied: "Yes, they could have been fractured in that manner."

At that Dr. Jordan hastily rose to his feet and addressed remarks to both Dr. Lippe and Dr. Wait:

"Gentlemen, they could not have been broken in that manner."

Dr. Lippe, taking the cue from his chief, and realizing the serious results to the Health Department involved in his previous answer, did not dare to answer to the Coroner's question. Thus, while the Coroner's Department was assisted over a very delicate bridge, there was nothing left for the Coroner's jury to do but find a verdict of homicide.

LAWYERS' FEES REDUCED.

Kehr & Fisher Say They Will Sue the City.

The Council Friday evening sealed the bill of E. C. Kehr and D. D. Fisher from $5,000 to $2,000. They say they will not accept $2,000 and will issue for more than $5,000.

Kehr and Fisher were engaged by the city to prosecute the case against the Edison Company and the Missouri Electric Light and Power Co. to compel them to pay $10,000 to the city for the use of their grass earnings on private business.

City Counselor Marshall had disqualifed himself as a stakeholder of the suit.

The special counsel were to receive, besides a retainer of $2,500, 8 per cent of the amount recovered by the city.

The suit was compromised by the Keyes bill without Kehr and Fisher being consulted. It is claimed that the ordinance was passed to prevent the Edison Company from paying the $10,000 in four installments. The lawyers claimed to the city commissioners that they would be entitled to 3 per cent of this amount and 8 per cent of an amount to be computed which the city would save by not paying the amount of the ordinance, plus a part of the cost of putting the wires of the company under ground.

According to Mr. Kehr, it was agreed that the company would be liable with $5,000 and this amount was tacked on to the $20,000 the company was to pay.

Mr. Kehr says he will be paid. They had a bill introduced appropriating $5,000. It has been in the Council for some time. It came up Friday night and caused a warm discussion.

Mr. Ferriss spoke at length in favor of the bill.

Mr. Norton thought the terms of the resolution under which the lawyers were employed should be adhered to. He therefore moved that the amount be cut to $2,000, which would be 8 per cent of the amount recovered by the company. The motion carried and the bill was sent to engrossment.

The entrance fee will depend on the number of entries, but in no case but few players enter it is expected to reach the prize by voluntary contributions from chess enthusiasts.

LOCAL CHESS MATCH.

Purse Will Be Posted by the Cosmopolitan Club.

All experts in St. Louis who desire to contend for the championship of the Cosmopolitan Chess Club and a $25 prize can do so by notifying at once Mr. J. C. Bird, Secretary.

The entrance fee will depend on the number of entries, but in no case but few players enter it is expected to reach the prize by voluntary contributions from chess enthusiasts.

TOM SHARKEY CHALLENGES.

Wants to Meet the Winner of the Big Mill.

VALLEJO, Cal., Feb. 13.—Tom Sharkey says he will be in the front row when Corbett and Fitzsimmons step into the ring at Carson's. He is the only champion's boy who believes that feature of the League's constitution.

Dr. Stuckey claims that he cannot secure a majority of the club members to support him in the League's challenge.

Sharkey, however, is a member of the League and has been a member since the day he was born.

He consented to drop the legal fight with the New York Base Ball Club for release.

President Bush of Cincinnati, the wily operator of the League, advised him to do so.

"Base ball will see its best days when the reserve clause is knocked out," said a prominent League lawyer. There is all the difference between the reserve clause and the one in the Constitution.

Others, however, are not so sure. The League's members are in agreement.

Sharkey, however, is a member of the League and has been a member since the day he was born.

He consented to drop the legal fight with the New York Base Ball Club for release.

President Bush of Cincinnati, the wily operator of the League, advised him to do so.

"Base ball will see its best days when the reserve clause is knocked out," said a prominent League lawyer.

Others, however, are not so sure. The League's members are in agreement.

Sharkey, however, is a member of the League and has been a member since the day he was born.

He consented to drop the legal fight with the New York Base Ball Club for release.

President Bush of Cincinnati, the wily operator of the League, advised him to do so.

"Base ball will see its best days when the reserve clause is knocked out," said a prominent League lawyer.

Others, however, are not so sure. The League's members are in agreement.

Sharkey, however, is a member of the League and has been a member since the day he was born.

He consented to drop the legal fight with the New York Base Ball Club for release.

President Bush of Cincinnati, the wily operator of the League, advised him to do so.

"Base ball will see its best days when the reserve clause is knocked out," said a prominent League lawyer.

Others, however, are not so sure. The League's members are in agreement.

Sharkey, however, is a member of the League and has been a member since the day he was born.

He consented to drop the legal fight with the New York Base Ball Club for release.

President Bush of Cincinnati, the wily operator of the League, advised him to do so.

"Base ball will see its best days when the reserve clause is knocked out," said a prominent League lawyer.

Others, however, are not so sure. The EMPLOYMENT GROUPING.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

20 words or less, $c.

BOY—Wanted, position by boy; experienced in office work; age 16; can furnish refs. Ad. B. M., 1903 Bacon st.

BARBER—A barber wants a steady Saturday night and Sunday job. Ad. H. 372, this office.

BLACKSMITH—Wanted, situation as blacksmith; car and wagon; and horseshoeing. Ad. S. 100, N. Leffingwell av.

BOOK-KEEPER—A book-keeper desires clerical situation of any kind; best references; competent, reliable; 5 years' experience. Ad. B. 348, this office.

BOOK-KEEPER—Wanted, position by thoroughly competent book-keeper; bond and best of refs.; will work reasonably. Ad. T. 372, this office.

BOY—A boy, 17 years old, wants to learn some trade. Ad. O. 275, this office.

CARPENTER—Wanted, situation as carpenter, machinist; porter; strictly refs. Ad. G. 371, this office.

COOK—Wanted, situation by first-class cook in $2 house, city or country; sober; best refs. Ad. M. 367, this office.

CARPENTER—A young man of 28, carpenter, wants situation in wholesale houses; not afraid of work. Ad. O. 367, this office.

CHEMIST—Wanted, situation by a well-qualified chemist; No. 1 references. Ad. S. 371, this office.

DRUGGIST—Wanted, situation by druggist of 10 years' experience; registered in Illinois and Missouri; Al references. Ad. S. 372, this office.

ENGINEER—An engineer wants work; strictly honest; No. 1 references. Ad. S. 372, this office.

HAYWARD'S SHORT—Hand and Business College, 219, 220, 221 and 222 Odd Fellows' Building, Day and night. Phone 4118.

HELP WANTED—MALE.

14 words or less, 10c.

MEN WANTED—A few capable men of good address to represent the Mount Hope Nurseries, Ellwanger & Barry, Rochester, N. Y.

MAN WANTED—Man with small capital as treasurer of savings museum. A. Seaton, General Delivery, city.

MEN WANTED—Ten first-class three hoop shavers. Lock Box 9, Harrisburg, Mo.

MEN WANTED—Young men to learn barbers trade; only two months required; catalogues mailed free. Motor's Barber College, 11th and Franklin av.

PORTER WANTED—Colored porter, immediately. Mrs. N. Taylor, 100.

SALESMAN WANTED—$100 to $125 per month; must be able to sell line; position, perm. pleasant and desirable. Ad. King Mfg. Co., T. 167 Chicago.

ST. LOUIS COMMERCIAL COLLEGE, Y. M. C. A. Building has the finest location and equipment and most practical course in book-keeping, penmanship, shorthand, typewriting, and all commercial branches. P. Hittner, President.

HOUSEGIRL WANTED—German girl for general housework; good wages. Apply at 3408 Laclede av.

HOUSEGIRL WANTED—Strong girl for house-work. 301 N. Grand av.

HOUSEGIRL WANTED—Young girl for general housework; small family. 331A Eads av.

HOUSEGIRL WANTED—A girl for general house-work. 433B Delmar av.

HOUSEGIRL WANTED—Girl to do general house-work. 413B Morgan.

LAUNDRESS WANTED—A woman to wash. 3721 Olive st.

WAITRESS WANTED—Experienced lady waitress. Apply at Grabin's Cafe, 315 Olive st.

WAITRESS WANTED—A waitress and help cook; must sleep in house. 221 S. Main st.

AGENTS WANTED.

14 words or less, 20c.

AGENTS WANTED—First-class experienced agents for traveling salesmen and masterpieces; the best and cheapest are the even more popular and don't need not apply on this new, big money-maker. 200 Merton-Jacard Bldg.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

20 words or less, 5c.

COPYING—Wanted, copying of all kinds by young girls; good handwriting; prices 10c to 25c. 461A Olive st., one block west of Taylor.

COOK—Wanted, situation by second cook, who can do all kinds of baking. Ad. B. 374, this office.

GIRL—Situation wanted by girl with baby for board and clothes. 4415 Maffitt av.

HAYWARD'S SHORT—Lost, between 18th and Olive and 17th and Chestnut. Please return to 1026 Franklin av. and receive reward.

CASE—Lost, on Saturday morning, between 28th and 31st sts., and Pine st. and Washington av., a silver bracelet with steel-framed spectacles; a reward will be paid for them. 2800 Pine.

DOG—Lost, a water spaniel; seen to the name of Prince. Return same to 3919 Evans av. and receive reward.

DOG—Lost, white and brown female pointer; red. 86 Vandeventer pl.

DOG—Lost, young greyhound; fawn color; named Bill. Please call at 1824 Kennett pl.

HOSUEKEEPER—Wanted, situation by refined widow lady with two children as housekeeper; capable of taking full charge; best references. Mrs. L. Stagl, Delmar.

HOSUEKEEPER—A middle-aged lady wishes a home for widow or for widower. Ad. J. 372, this office.

HOSUEKEEPER—Wanted, sit. by good young housekeeper or housewife in a small family. 2527 Elmwood.

HOSUEKEEPER—Wanted, position by widow as housekeeper or for widow; no light housework. Mrs. E. Hunt, 1547 S. Broadway.

MAN—Wanted, situation by man of 34; wife and two children to support; good references. Ad. H. 372, this office.

MAN—First-class workman wants situation. Ad. K. 373, this office.

MAN—Wanted, situation by Jewish young man of 28; body in head of work; salary no object. Ad. F. 372, this office.

MAN—Wanted, situation by an ex-Confederate soldier; has family; needs work; clerked in county and state office; good references; good handwriting; process to taxing costs, either as clerk, watchman or guard; won't you answer? Ad. Room 66, Globe Hotel, St. Louis.

MAN—Young man of 20, good physique in muscle; can work at night; small salary to begin with; also understands tuning. Ad. K. 373, this office.

MAN AND WIFE—Couple would like a home with private room; will work for $2.50 each a week. 190 Morgan st.

MAN—First-class business man wants any kind of office work. Ad. N. 372, this office.

MAN—Wanted, situation by German; can tend to horses and make himself generally useful around the house; with well-to-do people. Ad. P. Ludwig, 505 S. Ottaway.

MAN AND WOMAN—Wanted, situation by colored couple with good cook; man good cookman or houseman; can give references. Ad. 2731 Lafayette av.

LAUNDRESS—Wanted, by experienced young man, situation in private family; ten hours work, day, garden, etc. Ad. 359, this office.

PORTER—Wanted, situation as railroad porter by young colored man; best references. Ad. 218 N. 11th st.

STEREOPHOTOGRAPHER—Competent man, 10 years' experience legal and railroad work; desires position; excellent references. Ad. 701A N. 15th st.

STEREOPHOTOGRAPHER—Young man, wants position of houseboy, short and sweet; Remington preferred. Ad. E. 372, this office.

STEREOPHOTOGRAPHER—Stenographer and clerk wants position in office; work part time; good pay; salary to start; references. Ad. B. 376, this office.

STOVE REPAIRS.

Repairs for stoves and ranges of every description. Jim. Fo. shaw, 111 N. 12th st.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

14 words or less, 10c.

COOK—Wanted, experienced cook; white preferred. Call at 916 N. Garrison av.

COOK—WANTED—A good girl to cook, wash and iron for family of 2; references required. 4419 West Pine.

CHAMBERMAID—Wanted, 2nd-class chambermaid, inquire at Room 11 or 12, Sparrow Hotel, 202 and Market sts., after 6 p. m.

CROWDS—Visited Raphael, the great clarivoyant,一切事物を知る者。 22c; short time only. 2228 Olive.

GIRLS WANTED—25 girls; pants finishers, Monday morning. J. Fishman, 811 N. 8th.

GIRL WANTED—A white girl for laundry work and assist in kitchen; no cooking. 2309 Locust.

GIRL WANTED—A girl to clerk in bakery; best refs. required. Call at 333 Franklin av.

GIRL WANTED—A girl, 15 to 17, to help with housework. 1626 N. Broadway.

GIRL WANTED—A girl to cook, wash and iron; German preferred. 3217 Locust st.

HOSUEKEEPER—Wanted, girl for general house-work; good cook; small family; no children. Apply 5147 Martine av.

HOSUEKEEPER—Wanted, a girl for general house-work; no washing. 2846 Henrietta st.

HOSUEKEEPER—Wanted, a girl for general house-work in a small family. 4304 Page av.

HOSUEKEEPER—Wanted, a good girl for general house-work; she is in large family. App. 3408 Schuyler, east of Compton av., one block north of Bell.

LAUFENDRESS—Wanted, a girl for general house-work; family of three; good wages; good house. 2830½ Allen av.

HELP WANTED—MALE.

14 words or less, 10 cents.

BARBER—Wanted, a good barber; good wages paid. Call before 5 p. m. at 304 S. Jefferson av.

BOY—WANTED—Reliable white boy, willing to work around the house for board. 2834 Pine st.

BARBER WANTED—Good barber for Saturday and Sunday; no board; no studies. 1804 S. 11th st.

BOY WANTED—A boy for general housework and gardening. At Forest Park University.

BOY WANTED—Small boy for office. 3002 Olive st. Apply at 6 p. m. to-day.

DENTIST WANTED—A good operator. Ad. M. 370, this office.

FREE treatment for all private, blood and rectal diseases. General Dispensary. 1408 Franklin av.

FARM HAND WANTED—Good milker. Von Schrader's farm, two miles west of Clayton.

HUSTLERS WANTED—For sampling, distributing, sign tacking; both local and traveling; include stock; references. Advertisers' Bureau, 113 W. 51st st., New York.

GRAY EYES' BROTHER.

I saw her first at Clones Station. We—that is, my calm, cool, calculating friend and myself—had come by the Great Northern of Ireland, from Belfast, and were on our way to Enniskillen. We had to change at Clones and, there, I saw her.

Was she beautiful? Ah, yes! Heart and mind told me so. She was sitting on one of the train seats at the queer end of the platform. All the girls were singing, and I drew my eyes to meet hers. Whether my sight was the usual comprehensive sweep of until it reached her, or whether the current of sympathy set up by our proximity awakened her interest, I have never been able to decide. Anyhow, my heart caught her eye, rested in all the confusion and bustle, like the top of a rock. Gray eyes were always appealing to me. They were bright and gay, gray as twilight; and, so truth to tell, my eyes dropped.

She sat there, in silence, with my friend opposite in his, and I next to him. The platform was a dreary one, an ordinary one, it may be, sound and sweet. She talked to her dog. "Ah! it needed her voice to complete the havoc in my heart." I leaned across, and asked her opinion.

"It is Liss-be-low," said she, accenting the last word.

She was dressed in simple taste, and, as near as I could judge, a shaggy brown dog, apparently needing a great deal of attention. It was a sweet picture, and out of place, so to speak, in my heart went out to that fair, lone girl; neither, and I am not ashamed to say it, did I care for her.

The Buhundor train steamed in, and my friend hurried me off to find a "smoker."

We were received compartment, however,

and, as usual, with a sprinkling of the gentler sex, and we continued ourselves with a non-smoking compartment, and out of the window in of hope of obtaining another glimpse of Gray Eyes. When I saw her approaching, I was not surprised; I had known her, and the dog was snuggled under that sheltering cloak. It seemed, under the circumstances, so small a breach of regulations to be reported. After all, I did not love the railway company; besides it was not my fault. Then again, my heart, my coolness, was everlasting—I summited up courage, and spoke to her.

"Will you accept this corner seat?" I said.

She thanked me very prettily, and with all the grace of a queen accepted.

"Tell me, what is your name?" I asked.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid.

"Jessie, I am a chambermaid, too," I said.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," she repeated.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," I said again.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," she insisted.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," I said.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," she insisted.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," I said.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," she insisted.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," I said.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," she insisted.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," I said.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," she insisted.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," I said.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," she insisted.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," I said.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," she insisted.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," I said.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," she insisted.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," I said.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," she insisted.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," I said.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," she insisted.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," I said.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," she insisted.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," I said.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," she insisted.

"I am Jessie, and I am a chambermaid," I said.

"I am Jessie, and I am a

